This question was not injected into the controversy until after the strike started. In the conference in New York, on which hinges the return of the men, it remains only for the railroads to consent to the strikers' coming back with the same status of they went out in July 1, that is, as they went out in July 1, that is, with the reduction of wages and their seniority and pension right unimpaired. This is an acknowledgement of defeat by the strike leaders and no other interpretation can be placed on it."

BIG TRACTOR SHOW WILL OPEN TUESDAY

Great preparations are being made trial Tractor show on the large lot of the tree.

In the construction of roads the Fordson is reported to be playing a leading part throughout the country. In addition a number of large manufacturers of road building equipment have put on the market machines especially designed to be used with the Fordson tractor. These in many cases make it possible for one man to do the work of two, thus making more good roads possible. Much of this machinery will be shown at this exposition.

What the Fordson means in the construction of buildings and public works will be graphically demonstrated on one end of the large field where every operation from the transportation of material to hoisting and concrete mixing will be seen in actual operation.

In the arrangement of this show, the planter's needs have not been over-operation.

In the arrangement of this show, the planter's needs have not been overlooked and practically every farm implement requiring power for its operation, from planting to the cultivating of the growing crop will be shown. Plows, harrows, mowers, two row cultivators, cultipactors, orchard disks, harrows, also feed mills and grist mills. cane mills and a silo filler will be seen in operation.

A special program of activities is being planned for the three days of the show, beginning Tuesday of next week, announcement of which will be made later.

This exposition is being given by the local branch of the Ford Motor company and the authorized Ford deal-ers in the branch territory.

trial Tractor show on the large lot on Ponce de Leon and Penn ave.

This show which will open on next Tuesday at 10 a. m., is the first of it's kind ever to be held in Atlanta, and according to reports from other cities, where similar shows have been held, there will be much of public interest in it.

As announced by W. W. Mitchell, local manager of the Ford Motor company, this show is to be a great demonstration of both agricultural and industrial uses for the Fordson tractor. Mr. Mitchell further states the tractor is being daily used both as a portable and stationery power unit in over 100 ways. Many of these will be demonstrated at the show. It is reported this tractor—the largest of Henry Ford's inventions—has been adapted to practically every operation in the lumber industry from the felling of the tree to its final conversion into lumber. It is reported that all these operations will be shown at this exposition except the felling of the tree.

The train crew picked up the bodies of Colonel Williams and the two women and placed them in the baggage car. Colonel Williams is said to have shown signs of like but he was dead car. Colonel Williams is said to have shown signs of life, but he was dead when the train reached Durham. Aside from a cut on his right hand, lis body was without a sign of injury. His left leg was broken, however, near the ankle.

Mrs. Williams' head was crushed. Miss Williams' body bore cuts and abbrasions.

The victims of the accident were taken from the local station to an un-dertaking establishment to await in-formation from Montgomery as to

NEGRO PUBLISHER DIES IN NASHVILLE

Nashville, Tenn., August 23.—Richard Henry Boyd, aged 90, founder of the National Baptist Publishing board, which furnishes secular literature to negro Baptists over the entire country, and the leading negro publisher of the south, died here at his home tonight. He was born a slave in Mississippi, March 15, 1832, and served through the civil war with the men of the family that owned him. Unable to read or write at the age of 21, he assumed leadership among his denomination by hard study and application. Dr. Boyd was the originator of the movement of supplying negro dolls to negro childen, which has since grown to immense proportions. He published a daily newspaper in Nashville.

Miss Madeleine Hauff scored a triumph at her farewell appearance in Atlanta before her departure for New York at the auditorium-armory Tuesday night.

"Charmante Oiseau." "Bell Song," "Traviata," "La Boheme," and others arias displayed her pure coloratura soprano voice to advantage.

Miss Hauff was introduced by Mayor Key, who represented Atlanta in his speech of farewell to the departing singer, who will take lessons under Herbert Witherspoon in her training for operatic work.

Detective John W. Hollingsworth, for 29 years a member of the Atlanta police department, was named senior probation officer Wednes@y_night at a called meeting of the police board. Detective Hollingsworth succeeds S. J. Coogler, whose death occurred last Friday.

Mr. Hollingsworth was elected to the police force on March 31, 1893. For several years he has held the rank of detective. Never during his police career has he been arraigned before the police board on charges. Prior to joining the police force he was a special officer for the Central of Georgia railway. He is a native of Rockdale county.

Twelve supernumeraries were elected Wednesday night from a lengthy list of applicants. Those chosen were James L. Hughes, J. F. Nance, A. J. Grant, J. C. Bennett, William May, E. J. Tuggle, James B. Davenport, C. C. Harper, John J. Chester. Beason P. Turner and W. J. Hyman. Officers Max Denton, A. L. Green and J. R. Pittman were promoted from the supernumerary force to the regular force.

for the revocation of the charter of Lookout klan No. 1. Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which was announced Wednesday, it was stated last night at the imperial palace of the order on Peachtree road.

E. Y. Clarke, acting imperial wizard, could not be reached for comment on dispatches to the effect that the Chattanooga klansmen had been enjoined from holding further meetings or transacting any further business as a klan, but other officials stated that Lookout klan had forfeited its right to a charter when its membership violated the klansmen's oath. The klan was enjoined by a temporary restraining order granted by Judge Oscar Yarnell on application of imperial headquarters in Atlanta. The bill of complaint charges that Lookout klan violated its charter by failing to account for its finances and by passing a treasonable resolution in consequence of which its charter was revoked, thereby taking from it any right to act as a klan.

The plans for the celebration at Lakewood park, as previously announced, include practically every variety of sports, which will add to the thrills and excitement of the celebration at Figure 1 and some friends of the bill as well as opponents believed he still is of that mind.

Meets Objection.

Replying to a question by Senator Robinson, democrat, Arkansas, Chair-man McCumber, of the finance comman McCumber, of the Infance committee, told the Senate today that there was no official information as to what the president would do. He added, however, that the changes in the bill by which there would be no marching in the parade during the morning, having agreed to furnish masic during the balance of the day.

Refresments of all kinds, including added, however, that the changes in picnic dinners of fried chicken and cake and other tempting viands will be there in great profusion, and lunch stands, and cafes will furnish food for the great crowd that is expected to break the Lakewood record for attendance.

THE CONSTITUTION of work, under the pretext of being epileptic or idiotic.

The Georgia legislature has not only enacted a law that makes the sanitarium a free-for-all dumping institution, but it has withheld proper support, and has failed to provide sufficient equipment for the care of the patients.

An important building, started some years ago, has been left to the mercy of the elements even without windows and doors, and the assembly has steadfastly failed to provide for its completion.

The state is to blame for the conditions at Milledgeville, and for the necessity of some of the larger counties holding insane wards in their penal institutions-a practice that is disgraceful-by reason of the law, and not any dereliction of duty on the part of county or institutional officials.

Trouble With Legislature

Editor Constitution: The criticisms of the recent session of the legislature are numerous and severe. It seems that the ecent session was a mussing up of things from start to finish.

I am reminded of a story I read a long time ago, when ocean transportation was largely by huge sailing vessels. One of these vessels was blown ashore on the Atlantic and wrecked at a barren place. One without a job, and without money, so he decided he must have work; he took to the woods until he came upon a farm house and woods until he came upon a farm house and appealed to the owner of the farm for a job, stating that he could do anv kind of work any other man could do. The farmer told him he had but one job open. "Just now I am plowing a new ground; you can try that job if you will."

Pat readily took the job.
The farmer's rig consisted of a spike team, a yoke of oxen, and old Gin, the burgy mare. The team was made ready and Pat proceeded to the work. Soon after this Pat was heard yelling at the top of his voice.

he found the oxen had turned the yoke from the top of the neck to the under-side. Old Gin was tangled in the gear. The entire team was down.

Pat was very much excited, and when asked for an explanation, he said. "Well

The entire team was here. The state of the schools and the plow was behind that stump, the team stopped, I told them to pull it up, but they refused. I gave old Gin a lick with this switch, she then kicked these oxen in the face and the mix up started. I done all I could to stop, but they would not hear me. The starboard ox not on the larboard side, old Gin got foul in the rigging, and side, old Gin got foul in the rigging, and the whole business started to hell giern the whole business the whole has been charged by some that Gover-Hardwick's autocratic pronouncements

The remedy might be had in the pasage of a constitutional amendment limitind the expenses reduced by next at each costion of the legislature, which is much o he desired. But the greater thine would be to have house not so unwelldly, and that would be to be a second of the cost of th per cent.

7. Joint pains ("growing pains") 200, 4 per cent.

The "frequent sore throat" and "frequent colds" mean that a child with diseased tonsils is much more susceptible to any and all of the res spiratory infections, including diseases as diphtheria, scarlet measles, pneumonia, meningitis and in fantile paralysis, than is a child with normal tonsils or a child who has had diseased tonsils removed.

The "growing pains" mean that a child with diseased tonsils is much more susceptible to joint disease, for instance acute infectious arthritis (variously called acute articular rheumatism, rheumatic fever, inflamma tory rheumatism and multiple arthri tis), and to the complication of endo-carditis or valvular heart disease which so frequently occurs, than is a child with healthy tonsils or a child whose diseased tonsils have been removed. "Growing pains" generally signify systemic absorption of septic or poisonous matter from a septic focus or depot of infection (nest of disease germs) in the tonsils. Remember that a child's tonsils may harbor such a septic focus or several foci yet ap-pear healthy to the ordinary observer. A child's tonsils may be the source of serious systemic disease yet not be enlarged. A child's tonsils may appear enlarged yet not cause any injury to the child's general health or develop-ment. Finally, a child's tonsils may be neither enlarged nor infected (dis-gased) in any way, yet the child may suffer from mouth breathing, due to the obstruction of the nasal breathing route by a very large adenoid body which is practically a third tonsil sit uated up out of casual sight behind the soft palate on the roof of the pharynx or throat.

"Ear trouble" means not merely earache, but running ear and deaf-ness. The usual cause of earache, discharging ear or deafness in children is some nose or throat condition, such as diseased tonsils or adenoids. But remember that 1,413 of these children who suffered from disensed were not mouth breathers.

successor to himself, his confirmation will be fought to the bitter end by Senator Heflin, Alabama, and the home state of Governor Harding. The Alabama senator will be joined by members of the farm bloc, headed by Senator Capper, Kansas, who wants President Harding to appoint persons affiliated with the agricultural interest to the two vacancies. One of the openings already assured of going to a representative of this group, the chief executive having expressed his intention to do this when the office was created.

Heflin's Personal Dislike.

The opposition of Senator Heflin is described to his personal dislike to the board, and at the same time he has been chief critic of the board's deflation policy, having made more than a score of speeches on the subject during the present session. The attitude of Senator Underwood, also from Alabama, has not been fully determined. It is said that he will support Governor Harding's confirmation if sent to the senates but whether he has taken any active part in urging his nomination is not known.

whether he has taken any active part in urging his nomination is not known.

Much criticism has been heard in certain circles over the president's delay in making some announcement concerning the two vacancies. Several months have passed since the additional office was created and no appointment has been made. The Harding reappointment may be said to have been hanging fire for almost an equal length of time, as both opposition and indorsements have been in the process of development for some time, pending the expiration of his term recently.

It is charged in view of this that the president has already reached same decision in the matter with an announcement forthcoming immediately after August 9. There has been some inclination to attribute the delay to politics, based upon the approaching national elections.

Capitol gossip has it that either Eugene Myer, Jr., head of the war finance corporation, or Comptroller of the Currency D. R. Crissinger will receive the nomination if Harding is not reappointed. Both of the latter officials are closely connected with the administration, while the latter is from Ohio and a personal friend of the president.

Ham Prices Are Down

Ham - Boiled, Baked (Hot or Cold), Broiled or Fried—is one of the most appetizing and savory foods that the market offers.

The wholesale price of ham is fifteen to twenty per cent lower than it was six weeks ago.

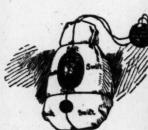

The U.S. Dept. of Agriculture in an announcement dated June 19, 1922, in referring to vitamins found in meat said, "Various cuts of meat were tried, and in every instance pork was found to be relatively rich in vitamins. Pork tenderloin, fresh ham, smoked ham, and pressed boiled ham were tested and the results were much the same with all of them."

Swift's Premium Hams are always of a uniform high standard of quality, regardless of price. A special cure of sugar and salt, and smoking over hardwood fires impart a flavor that has made "Premium" Ham the world's standard.

Summer time is ham time. Insist on having "Swift's Premium"-see the blue identification tag.

The Public Service commission Wednesday heard the petition of the Georgia railroad to discontinue Fick-len, Ga., as an agency station and len. Ga., as an agency station and make it a prepay station. In its petition the company contended that its business at Fricklen did not justify the railroad to maintain it as a station and keep an agent there.

The railroad was represented by Attorney W. A. Slaton and A. Moritz, superintendent of transportation. Citizens protesting against the proposed discontinuance were represented by Attorney C. H. Calhoun, of Washington, Ga. The commission reserved its decision.

Thursday morning the commission will hear a petition by the Georgia railroad to discontinue its agent at Almon, Ga.

Of course that is the advertisement of only one shop but it shows what the ideal of a saleswoman is coming Authorities on Dress.

As for clothes, "to dress like a shop girl" (only we should say "saleswoman" today, and that difference in terms is itself an illustration of the change trait has taken place) is very far from a reproach. The average girl in a good shop has a good taste, as much restraint and as keen a sense of style as her customers—more than most of them. True she has no variety of clothes, but what she has are of the best and chosen with tine sense of fitness. If I can get a shop girl to give me what I feel to be sincere and interested advice I take it like a shot. One girl said to me the other day when I had not seen just what I wanted: "I have one model laid aside that I was going to buy for myself, but I can order another. Would you like to see it?" I bought it at once, because I felt it must represent a better sense of style than mine, if she chose it.

Good taste, well modulated voices, good manners, all these things are conning to be necessary to a successful saleswoman. Small wonder that selling has long ceased to be a job which means loss of caste as compared with teaching or office work. If we could only bring about the same change in attitude toward domestic work! But that is a different and more complicated story.

Tomorrow—Green Files and Fears.

HOW TO SAVE WHEN SHOPPING By Ruth Leigh Author of "The Human Side of Retail felling," "The A B C of Retailing," Etc.

When you buy needles for hand sewing, there are three important points to be considered. First, is the needle well tempered? That is, is it strong? A good needle should not break or bend easily. The second point is the condition of the needle. Is it well or carelessly finished? A badly finished needle may have a rough eye that cuts the thread, and rough eye that cuts the thread, and you will know the exasperation, when sewing, of broken threads from what may seem an unknown cause. You can tell a good needle by rollong it on a flat surface. It will be straight when rolled in this way.

SAFETY FIRST WEEK SET FOR SEPT. 17-24

The week of September 17-24 has been decided on for the safety first campaign to be put on by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. This coincides with the safety week of the Citizens' Safety association, which was announced recently. By combining efforts on the part of the two organization, it is hoped that much will be done to enhance the safety of both pedestrian and autoist.

The Citizens' Safety association, which has applied to the national safety council for a local charter, will continue the work, following up the safety first week throughout the year.

Year.

The safety drive is receiving the closest co-operation from the Atlanta Motor club and local civic organizations. Pedestrians can contribute materially toward the reduction of automobile accidents by walking on the left side of the road facing oncoming traffic, according to officials of the club.

"Courtesy on the part of the au-ing traffic, according to officials of the club.

"Courtesy on the part of the automobile driver demands the use of dimmed lights at night," said W. G. Peebles, Jr., secretary of the club, "and this factor, while it contributes to the safety of passing motorists, makes it exceedingly difficult for the automobile driver to see a pedestrian walking along the edge of the road in the same direction of the car is traveling. This difficulty is increased if the pedestrian happens to be wearing dark clothing. The result is that the driver is practically on top of the pedestrian before the latter becomes visible.

"Walking on the left hand side of the road is just as good for the pedestrian and enables him to see the approaching automobile in time to step aside if the motorists do not see him in time to swerve."

They say that when they only secured $15,000 at eight per cent, Dr. Callendar agreed to accept the loan, and promised to come to their offices to complete the necessary papers. He failed to show up, it is alleged, and it later developed that he had secured a loan of $12,500 from the Penn Mutual Life Insurance company. The attorneys claim that inasmuch as they secured the money for the druggist they are entittled to a commission, despite the fact that he accepted a loan elsewhere.

AT WOMAN'S WINDOW

BY W. L. GEORGE

A beautiful thing between engaged couples is their desire to reveal themselves to each other as completely as may be. A less beautiful thing which we discover in marriage, is the tendency of the two, now happily mated, to trade upon information which they have received during their obviously privileged situation. I know that the derision between married people is not always unkind, and that there is a great difference between the wife who calls her husband stupid and the wife who calls him dear old stupid, but there are certain times where familiarity is dangerous because it hits something hard. That is the case notably in superstitions.

Personally I have no superstitions; I think them completely imbecile.

All the same I recognize that there are in the world many people who hate to be thirteen at dinner, who do nothing on a Friday, who will not pass under a ladder or light three cigarettes with one match, or open an umbrella in the house, or put boots upon a table. They are mad, but Hamlet rightly says that this is a mad world. We must live in it, sane as we think ourselves. Now in marriage one often finds that one partner is superstitious while the other is not, and that the sceptic systematically outrages the superstitions on the other. The intention, I believe, is to "take the nonsense" out of the husband or wife. I think that a cruel prooutrages the superstitions on the other. The intention, I believe, is to "take the nonsense" out of the husband or wife. I think that a cruel proceeding, for the superstitious one really suffers when something is done which he intimately feels brings bad luck. There is only one thing to do with superstitions; to let them alone. They are obstinate sides of our natures, arising from our black sub-consciousness, older than neolithic fears. They are incurable. If they are to be lived with they must be greeted with a smile rather than with a scoff. (Copyright, 1922. for The Constitution.)

Soberly Betty read and reread this eurious letter. Then for a moment her eyes rested on the cool signature, without so much as a "sincerely yours," and then she looked at that first phrase, "My Dear, Dear Little Girl": and then her eyes grew misty and she smiled, faintly, tenderly.

Suddenly, this morning, life had changed color: the black mood was gone, like an illness that had passed its climax. The curious antagonism in their talk the evening before had, it seemed, cleared the air-at least for her. would you advise me to use in cutting down to six volta?

You should not use the house current direct, but should include a highly inductive choke coil in series in order to cut down the hum from the line. This precedure will also cut down the voltage slightly and will make it more suitable for your purpose. You had also better include some low-capacity fuses in the circuit. You can cut the voltage down to six by connecting lamps or other resistances in series, but it would be safer and probably more economical in the end to use a storage battery.
Radio Editor—I have a "Radio-home" vacuum tube set and have recently added a stage of audio. Have been getting good results, but need no more than twenty volts on the plate for both tubes. With more than twenty volts the set will not work. As the hook-up is correct, I am puzzled at this, Please explain.

This is certainly peculiar, You may possibly have secured an amplifier tube that does not require a high voltage. It may also be possible that your hook-up is not correct, although you maintain that it is. These can be the only solutions.

But all is not sunshine and roses for the promoters. Some come out ahead, but the extraordinary case of Floyd Fitzsimmons, the Michigan City, Ind., promoter today furnishes a shining illustration of what may happen to the unlucky.

Fitzsimmons not only faces serious financial losses, but has on his hands an abandoned arena at Benton Harbor, Mich., where Jack Dempsey battered Billy Miske to defeat in three rounds two years ago, and the beautiful structure at Michigan City, Ind., in which Fitzsimmons intended to stage a match between Dempsey and Bill Brennan on Labor Day.

Fitzsimmons is said to face a loss of $100,000 as a result of Governor than sparring matches.

With the gates at $54,000, Leonard walked away with $25,000, while Kansas received about $15,000.

Disaster began to creep up to fitzsimmons when he staged the match between Leonard and Ever Hammer, a Chicagoan, on August 4. Leonard had been guaranteed $20,000 and left Fitzsimmons with a loss of about $8,000. He was obliged to dig into his pockets to meet the Hammer's share and also for the preliminaries and expenses of promotion.

Fitzsimmons is now left with a costly arena on his hands in which he can stage nothing more exciting than sparring matches.

Did You Get the Bottom Price, After All?

The man who buys a "long discount" tire usually finds himself troubled by the above question.

Did he pay less for the tire than his neighbor might have paid, or actually did he pay more?

Did he get the bottom price, when all is said and done, or could he perhaps have driven a sharper bargain?

Was the net price really more than he might have had to pay for a tire of established reputation and value?

In the belief that the average motorist prefers a frank and open transaction, we built the new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord and discounted the "discount" in advance. Instead of listing it at a high price, to enable the dealer to attract you with a so-called "long discount," we list it as low as we profitably can. We build it of high-grade long-staple cotton, using the patented Goodyear method of group-ply construction, and sell it at a lower price than you are asked to pay for many "long discount" tires of unknown worth.

Compare these prices with NET prices you are asked to pay for "long discount" tires

Perhaps one of the biggest star numbers will be Dave and Dore, Hawaiian serenaders, who will offer a tropical revue of pleasing native songs. A pretty and effective stage setting goes along with the act. Another good number is a one-act comedy presented by Mark Hart & Co., entitled, "My Daughter's Husband." In this little skit some clever acting will be shown.

2:40—Miss Helen Muse (50) and J. W. Cooper (21) with Mrs. Howdays and today J. H. Waller, husband of one of the women, was taken in custody.

It was Waller who obtained the writ of habeas corpus in an effort to secure the release of the two women.

He also is alleged to have attempted to communicate with the women and advise them what to say and what not to say.

No one is being permitted to talk with the women. They are held in separate cells and have told conflicting stories about what happened last ing stories about what happened last Saturday night and early Sunday morning. Deputies today stated they are weaving a chain of evidence that as soon as completed will clear up the mystery. It is the contention of the sheriff's men that Brown was knocked in the head and robbed of considerable money he is known to have had on his person Saturday night just before he left home, saying he was to break off with the Flowers woman.

After being struck on the head, it is the belief of the officers, Brown was thrown upon a pile of steel rails along the railroad right of way, the imprint of the rails being found on his spine.

This, the officers say, ended a "big night" and an automobile party in which women and liquor figured.

As approved by the war secretary the board's findings held that Colonel

DR. LEE B. CLARKE DIES OF APOPLEXY Dr. Lee Ben Clarke, one of the best known doctors in Atlanta, died at the residence, G29 N. Boulevard, at 11:25 o'clock last night following a stroke of apoplexy five weeks ago. Dr. Clarke was born in Blenheim, New Zealand, March 25, 1868, but came to this country when he was two years of age. His parents Morris and Elizabeth Lee Clarke, of Sadney, New South Wales, Australia, settled at Marion, S. C. At thirteen years of age had finished school and was awarded a member of the Marcican Congress of Internal Medicine. It was largely through his efforts some years ago that the office of milk commissioner was created in Atlanta and he served in this capacity until it was well established. Well Known as Writer.

finished school and was awarded a teacher's certificate. In a few years he moved to Charleston where he took a course in pharmacy and was a registered pharmacist when eighteen years old.

While following the pharmaceutical profession he attended the Charleston School of Medicine, and upon being graduated from that institution, moved to this city, where he became one of the most prominent and beloved doctors in Atlanta. Endowed with a special gift of understanding children, for the past 15 years devoted his time exclusively to the diseases of infants and children. In this
